

should place upon record our appreciation of her services as an active member of our beloved society and her merits as a noble woman and a true Christian, therefore be it resolved:

That we deeply deplore the loss of Nancy V. Layne with feelings of deep regret softened only by the confident hope that her spirit is with those who, having fought the good fight of faith here, and her Savior, and are now enjoying perfect happiness in a better world than this.

Resolved, that we tender to her afflicted relatives our sincere condolence and our earnest Christian sympathies in the loss of whom was a loving mother, a devoted wife, an earnest Christian, and an upright woman.

Resolved, That a copy of the foregoing resolutions signed by a special committee be transmitted to the relatives of the deceased and to be printed in the Cornell Journal and the BRETHREN EVANGELIST and a copy be spread upon the records of our K. C. society.

Literary Notes

Mrs. Cleveland recently had a new set of photographs taken, the first time she has been photographed since leaving the White House, and has given them to Mr. Bok, with permission to publish them in The Ladies' Home Journal, where they will be publicly seen for the first time. The set also includes the first authoritative photographs published of the new Princeton home of the Cleverlands.

Herbert E. Hamblen ("Fred B. Williams") whose stirring "Adventures of a Freight Engineer" lately appeared in a popular magazine, has written a thrilling railroad story for The Youth's Companion for the week of May 19th. Mr. Hamblen served two years as a ship's engineer, some of his experiences being recorded in his book, "On Many Seas." That he also knows something of the life of a locomotive engineer is shown in the strong story he has written for The Companion.

The initial article in The Chautauquan for May shows the reader veritable "Glimpses of Switzerland;" H. H. Regan is the author and there are a number of descriptive illustrations. "History As It Is Made" is also rendered attractive by some dozen portraits and the subjects of present importance are treated in an entirely unbiased manner.

The Preachers' Magazine, just at hand, issues special numbers upon special subjects and presents every year in May a Memorial number. The present excels all others. A Memorial Sermon by Ferdinand C. Inglehart, D. D., presents a choice and charming discourse. An excellent photo of the author accompanies it. "Spring," a discourse by Rev. E. H. Higgins, is full of beauty. Memorial Day service, by Rev. W. R. Picken, is an appropriate sermon for the day. "Thoughts for Memorial Day" fill eight pages of live themes and thoughts, all readable and suggestive. A brief sermon for busy readers, by Joseph Parker, D. D., upon "Humble Ministries," is good. The store of Homiletics is prolific and embraces many themes, "Be Quick," by Rev. A. C. Cox; "The Child Samuel," by the Rev. F. B. Meyer, are noticeable. The Children's Address, by Rev. Samuel Gregory, is rich in thought and illustration. The Notes on the International Sunday-school Lessons, by William E. Ketcham, D. D., are helpful and wholesome. No department is more suggestive than "Outline Address on the Golden Texts" by the editor. An able sermon to teachers by Rev. C. F. Aked, is found in the May number. Also instructive articles upon "Pitfalls in Bible English," by Rev. J. A. Clapperton, A. M., and "The Strength and Weakness of Present-Day Preaching" by Rev. Thomas Puddicombe, "A Pulpit Prayer," by Ian Maclaren, "Notes and Illustrations," etc. It is one of the most valuable numbers of this highly valued Magazine. Published monthly at $1.50 per year, single copies 15 cents. Wilbur B. Ketcham, Publisher, 7 and 9 West Eighteenth Street, New York.
